Engineers Fail to Show for New York Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking flight engineers of Eastern Air Lines passed up today a negotiating session set up in New York by federal mediators, but offered to talk in Washington instead.

Official pressure for settlement of that dispute and others like it built higher with talk in influential quarters about possible legislation for compulsory arbitration.

The latter move was initiated by Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., of the Senate Aviation Subcommittee. He called Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg to his office for a discussion of what Monroney called jurisdictional strikes on the air carriers.

There was no immediate commitment from Goldberg, but Monroney said the secretary wanted to study the idea.

The dispute that has grounded Eastern since Saturday threatens to stop Pan American World Airways and barely missed shutting down Trans World Airlines last week is jurisdictional. The big issue is who shall have the third seat in the cockpit when the three pilots cut the crews on their big planes from four men to three by combining the jobs of the third pilot and the engineer.

The Flight Engineers International Association, AFL-CIO, bypassed the New York talks on the ground that it had no formal notice of the session, to which Undersecretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Francis A. O'Neill Jr., a member of the National Mediation Board, had been assigned.

Headquarters of the union released a message to the board from Jack Robertson, head of its EAL branch, saying the union had no notice of the New York session except press reports.

But the message said the union would have representatives in Washington by noon and would take part in any negotiations set up there.

EAL, the second biggest domestic air carrier with nine million passengers a year, shut Saturday when the engineers walked out, furloughing 18,000 employees and leaving thousands of travelers to find other passage.

Pan American, the biggest U.S. overseas line with four million passengers a year, is flying after a brief walkout Saturday, but its engineers are working under a court order effective only until a hearing Tuesday afternoon.

FIRMLY ENTRENCHED — A sift of the 11 children of Louis Crosswhite sit firmly in the family station wagon in Hillsville, Calif., after sheriff's deputies arrested the 50-year-old laborer for obstructing the law. The deputies, from Eureka, attempted to repossess the car, but Crosswhite told his children to get in the auto, lock the doors and let no one in. While the deputies try to think up new strategy, the 11 children live in the car in shifts, and Crosswhite sits in jail.

Washington Plans July 4 Observance

The Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation announces the Fifth Annual July Fourth Homecoming Event will be held again this Independence Day.

The event started in 1958 somewhat along the lines of a former homecoming event held in Washington, and discontinued with World War II. The celebration is held in connection with the program originated by the Washington Restoration project to create some of the community's historical past.

Itinerary for the day:
Registration at the Old Tavern
Tours: 9:00 a. m. — in your car — tickets to be purchased at registration desk for $1.25. Places open: Tavern, Gun Museum, Blacksmith Shop, Block-Catts House, Trimble House, Etter House. (You may also in addition see: The Pioneer Cemetery, Large Magnolia Tree, the Confederate State Capitol, the Methodist Church, and the Presbyterian Church.)

Dedication of Flag: 10:30 a. m.
Luncheon: 11:00 a. m. until 1:00 p. m. — Tavern lawn — $1.50.
Introduction of Guests: 1:30 p. m. — Tavern porch.
Tours to continue throughout the afternoon.

Medals Came Little Late, He Thinks

DE WITT, Ark. (AP) — Auto salesman Robert Lane has been showered with World War II medals recently and he can't understand why they came 17 years late.

"I think President Kennedy must have been cleaning out his closet and found these things and sent them to me," Lane quipped.

The medals include a Bronze Star for "meritorious service during the Rhineland Campaign, Feb. 4, 1944."

Lane said he fought in the Rhineland, but he does not remember doing anything to earn a medal. He was wounded of Jan. 24, 1945, about a year after the date for which the medal was awarded.

In addition, in another mail, Lane received a Good Conduct Medal, a combat infantryman's badge with two battle stars, a World War II victory medal and the European-African Theater medal.

The only medal he received during the war, Lane said, was a Purple Heart which an orderly tossed on his hospital bed.

Lane was elected recently as "chef de gare" of the Arkansas Veterans to 40 et 8, a veteran's organization.

Mrs. Guilliams, 86, Dies Here on Saturday

Mrs. Rosetta Guilliams, aged 86, a longtime resident of Hope, died Saturday at a local hospital. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include a son, Harley Guilliams of Hope; four daughters, Mrs. J. E. Fitzwater of El Dorado; Mrs. Troy Wilson of Little Rock; Eva Guilliams of Texarkana and Mrs. Charles Kitchens of Hope.

Services will be held at 4 p. m. today at Liberty Baptist Church by the Rev. James Johnson. Burial will be in Snell Cemetery at Emmet.

U.S. Warships Speeding to Formosa Area

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — U.S. warships were speeding from Japan today to reinforce the 7th Fleet's Formosa patrol in the face of a reported Chinese Communist military buildup on the coast opposite the Nationalist offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Most of the 7th Fleet ships that had been in the big Yokosuka, Japan, naval base pulled out over the weekend. A spokesman said only that they were "deploying for operations at sea," but Pacific fleet headquarters in Honolulu confirmed that they were strengthening the patrol in the Formosa Strait off Red China's Fukien Province.

A Navy spokesman in Honolulu said the move was almost routine in the light of reports of the Communist buildup. He refused to say how many ships were on patrol, but an unconfirmed report from Japan said reinforcements from there included the carrier Coral Sea.

The Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Communists are evacuating noncombatants from the entire coastal area opposite Formosa.

The Defense Ministry has estimated that the Communists have 400,000 men, 300 planes and 40 small naval craft on the "invasion front." It also said Sunday that the Reds have 30 submarines, but did not pinpoint them as being in the Formosa Strait, which is relatively shallow and narrow.

Orders were reported to have gone out to commanders on Quemoy and Matsu to be especially vigilant against possible Communist action. Quemoy received one of its sporadic Communist shellings over the weekend.

N. Fork of Ozan Creek Is Checked

A field check was made of North Fork of Ozan Creek at the request of the landowners. This watershed covers 6888 acres of Pike county, 3200 acres of Howard, and 36998 acres of Hempstead County.

The field check was made by Mr. Eoff, Economist and Mr. Edwards, hydrologist of the Soil Conservation Service.

The purpose of this check to determine the feasibility of treating the watershed under flood prevention act. This act of getting proper easement right on lands that were owned by the Southwest Praying Ground and sold back with restrictions of surface use only. Otherwise it appears that the area passes the inspection.

If this question is cleared the landowners will be ready to organize a Watershed District. The Watershed District will have to secure easement rights for construction. The Federal Government will pay for construction of approximately ten lakes and the channel work on North Fork. Then it will be up to the District to maintain the project in working condition.

All lakes will belong to the landowners.

Negro Leaders Hold Conference

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — More than 200 Negro leaders from four southern states gathered in New Orleans Saturday for a conference on the problems created by "Reverse Freedom Rides." The conference was sponsored by the Southern Regional Office of the National Urban League and the Urban League of Greater New Orleans. The speakers agreed that Negro migrants from the South will face almost certain economic disaster and bitter disappointment unless the migration is planned and examined thoroughly in advance. The conference attracted representatives from 40 communities in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

The public is asked to plan picnics and other use of the bandstand around this time schedule.

Court Rules Prayer in School Violates U.S. Constitution

Market Suffers Setback in Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices suffered another sharp setback in heavy trading today.

Almost all sections of the market were lower by early afternoon with most key issues down fractions to $\frac{1}{8}$ a share.

Analysts were unable to cite any new economic factor that might be contributing to the continued decline. The rapid trading pace caused the ticker to run late at times.

Lower were steels, motors, rails, chemicals, tobaccos, drugs, rubbers, electrical equipments and utilities. Airlines held mixed.

A few growth stocks showed gains.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 5.52 at 533.67.

The dip continued last week's trend when prices fell to the lowest level since 1958.

Former Hope Woman Is Honored

Mrs. R. H. Ragan was recently honored by the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, Tex., with a reception recognizing her 45 years as church organist. During the reception she was presented a gift from the congregation. She still plays at the First Presbyterian Church in Greenville.

Mrs. Ragan was Miss Edna Wingfield, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wingfield and sister of Mrs. R. L. Gosnell of Hope. She was organist at the local Presbyterian Church before her marriage. She graduated from Hope High School in 1904, the only one in the graduating class.

At the time of her HHS graduation, Mrs. Shipman was principal and the whole school was housed in the two-story frame building where Oglesby School now stands. Following her musical studies at London Conservatory in Dallas, Mrs. Ragan taught organ and piano until she married. Then she began an intensive study of church music, composers, and biographies of great artists.

This organist and her late husband were parents of two children, Mrs. Elizabeth McElreath of Greenville and the late Robert Ragan, who was also a musician. There are four grandchildren. Robert B. Ragan of San Antonio, a talented musician, arranger, and coyst for some of the best known bands, Chick Ragan and Roberts Joyce Ragan of Dallas, and Mac McElreath of Greenville.

Walker's Sentence Is Revoked

Masyo Walker, Negro who was arrested a couple of weeks ago for chaining his 10-year-old son, was taken to the Arkansas State Penitentiary last week by Sheriff Jimmie Griffin.

Judge Lyle Brown revoked a three-year suspended sentence given Walker in 1961 after he became involved in a shooting scrape.

Political Boost for Governor

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus got a big political boost in Sunday's 1962 Progress Edition of the Camden News.

A full-page advertisement, paid for by the Camden Central Trades Council, is headlined: "Camden and Ouachita County Salutes (sic) Governor Orval E. Faubus."

A sub-head says, "The Industrial Hub of Southwest Arkansas Appreciates the Accomplishments of Arkansas' Progressive Governor."

The ad says Faubus' "all-out effort to create new job opportunities has been widely acclaimed as successful."

It says Arkansas' per capita income has increased from $979 to $1,420 annually and the average weekly wage has climbed from $51.33 to $9.93 during Faubus' 7½ years in office.

Teacher salaries have increased from an average of $2,284 a year to $3,14, the ad says.

"Gov. Faubus always has shown a keen interest in any problem affecting Southwest Arkansas," the ad concludes. "He has gone beyond the call of duty many times in attempts to assist us in the Camden area."

The Central Trades Council is a labor organization.

Faubus is seeking a fifth term.

Crop Insurance Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to increase the number of counties which may be added yearly to the federal crop insurance program was passed by the Senate Saturday and sent to the House.

The bill, by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., would permit the federal crop insurance corporation to offer the program in 150 new counties each year. It now can only offer the program to 100 additional counties.

The insurance program now is in effect in 99 counties throughout the United States. In each county, one or more crops are covered.

Under the insurance program, farmers pay a premium for protection for crop losses. The Senate Agriculture Committee said, in a report on the bill, that for the 1948-51 period, premiums exceeded indemnities and other costs by more than $9 million.

Offering of 22 Words Brought Five Objections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today the offering of a 22-word daily prayer in New York state's public schools violates the U.S. Constitution.

Five parents with children in schools in New Hyde Park, N.Y., had questioned the practice as a violation of the principle of separation of church and state.

New York State's Board of Regents, the governing body of the public school system, recommended that this prayer be spoken in school opening exercises.

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon thee, and we beg thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

Justice Black wrote the court majority opinion which declared: "We think that by using its public school system to encourage recitation of the regent's prayer, the State of New York has adopted a practice wholly inconsistent with the establishment clause" of the U.S. Constitution.

"The first amendment to the constitution commands that 'Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion.'"

Justice Stewart wrote a dissenting opinion which declared "the court has misapplied a great constitutional principle."

Stewart added, "I cannot see how an 'official religion' is established by letting these two words to say a prayer say it. On the contrary, I think that to deny the wish of these school children to join in reciting this prayer is to deny them the opportunity of sharing in the spiritual heritage of our nation."

Justice Douglas wrote an opinion concurring with the majority. Justices Frankfurter and White took no part.

The court's vote thus was 6-1.

G. W. Lough, 36, War Veteran, Dies Saturday

Garland W. Lough, aged 36, died Saturday in a local hospital. He was a longtime employee of Dean's Truck Stop, a veteran of World War II and a member of the VFW.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Willie Huckabee Lough, three sons, Roger, Richard and Ronald; two daughters, Nancy and Nena Kay, all of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lough of Hope; three brothers, Jewell of Tyler, Tex.; J. C. of Lufkin, Tex.; sisters, Mrs. Ruby Gill of Big Springs, Tex.; Mrs. Martina Ross and Delmer Lough of Hope; four of Louisiana; Mrs. Sue Smith of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Emalee Hubbard of Plainview, Tex.

Services will be held at 3 p. m. Monday at First Baptist Church. Burial by Oakcrest Funeral service will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Condition of Actor Unchanged

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Veteran movie actor Edward G. Robinson, under treatment following a suspected heart attack, had a comfortable night at Nairobi's Princess Elizabeth Hospital, doctors reported today. They said his condition was unchanged.

The hospital said Robinson, 68, will not be allowed to have visitors other than his wife for another week. The actor was flown here last Monday after being stricken in Tanganyika where he was making a movie.

Addiction to Dope Ruled No Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional today a California law making it a crime to be addicted to narcotics or to make unprescribed use of them.

Justice Stewart delivered the 6-2 decision.

Justice White, who went on the high bench April 1, wrote his first dissenting opinion, protesting that the court had gone too far in its decision. Justice Clark also dissented. Justice Frankfurter took no part.

The California statute reads: "No person shall use, or be under the influence of, or be addicted to the use of narcotics, except when administered by or under the direction of a person licensed by the state to prescribe and administer narcotics."

Stewart said the California law had to be put in the same category as statutes which inflicted cruel and unusual punishment.

"We hold that a state which imprisons a person thus afflicted as a criminal," said Stewart, "even though he had never touched any narcotic drug within the state or been guilty of any irregular behavior there, inflicts a cruel and unusual punishment in violation of the 14th Amendment."

Stewart said the high tribunal was not unmindful of vicious evils of the narcotics traffic, but he commented that there were "countless fronts on which those evils may be legitimately attacked."

White's dissent said the court "had departed from its wise rule of not deciding constitutional questions except where necessary and from its equally sound practice of constraining state statutes, where possible, in a manner saving their constitutionality."

Ozark Lines, Pilots Set Pension Fund

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ozark Air Lines and its 100 pilots have agreed on graduated increases in pension fund payments by the company under a contract beginning July first thus averting a strike.

The agreement was put in writing late Saturday.

Increases in company pension payments will be made on July 1, when the contract goes into effect, on Jan. 1, 1963, and Oct. 1, 1963. The company will be paying "a major portion" of the pension fund contribution by the last step, amounting to an estimated 7½ per cent of payroll.

Undisclosed wage hikes for pilots and adjustments in co-pilots' pay according to tenure also were part of the agreement.

The old salary scale for pilots ranged from $420 a month for a first-year co-pilot. Captains with eight years experience received $1,310 monthly as pilots of piston-engine equipment, and $1,544 a month as pilots of jet-prop aircraft.

Death Toll in State Is 22

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rodney Shaw, 62, of Wynne, drowned Sunday in the L'Angeille River near Wynne, bringing to 22 the number of accidental deaths in the state last week.

A Lamer trucker was killed early Sunday when his trailer-truck rig jackknifed, throwing him from the cab, and a 7-year-old Batesville boy died Saturday of injuries sustained Friday when he was struck by an automobile.

Floyd Farmer of Wynne, a companion of Shaw's, said Shaw got tangled in underwater brush. He told officers he recovered the body immediately and gave artificial respiration, but unsuccessfully.

The body was brought out of the isolated area by tractor.

State Police said Robert Bray, 56, of Lamar, was thrown from the truck and crushed beneath the wheels. The accident occurred on a curve at the foot of a hill on U.S. Highway 71 near DeQueen. Officers said Bray apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

The youth, Boyce Skinner, was struck by an automobile driven by Dr. Charles Smith, a professor at Arkansas College in Batesville, police said. Police said the youth apparently ran into the path of the car.

Twelve persons died in traffic accidents on state highways during the past week. One was killed in a car-train accident; three drowned, one burned to death; one was fatally shot and one died in a plant accident.

State Under Storm Alert for 4 Hours

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
North and central Arkansas, under a four-hour alert for severe thunderstorms carrying damaging winds and hail, apparently escaped major damage Sunday night.

A fire raged out of control in Marked Tree during a windstorm, razing four Negro frame houses and a cafe and threatening buildings in a block and a half area of the city. No one was injured.

A section of Jonesboro was without electric power temporarily when wind blew a tree against a utility line.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock reported one-inch hail in the Danville-Ola area and said heavy rains and light hail fell in the northern section of the state. Light hail was reported nine miles west of Little Rock.

The state forecast called for partly cloudy and warm weather through Tuesday with widely scattered, mostly afternoon and evening thundershowers.

Negro Homes in Marked Tree Burn

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP)—Fire, fed by wind gusts of up to 40 miles per hour, razed four Negro homes and a cafe and threatened homes, a gin and a hotel Sunday night.

There were no casualties. Police Chief Maurice Henson said over 50 firemen and volunteers fought the blaze, which raged to within a block of the community's main street, for nearly three hours.

Henson said the fire was reported shortly after 8:30 p.m. Firemen were not able to leave the scene until after 11 p.m.

Sparks blown by the high winds sent volunteers scurrying over rooftops dampening small fires that started sporadically during the night. Henson said at one time there were 12 to 15 fires blazing in the block and a half area.

Firemen from Marked Tree, Tyronza and Lepanto were called to the scene. Henson said several of the firefighters received cuts and bruises in scrambling around rooftops.

He said the dwellings were all occupied. How the blaze began has not been determined.

LAUGH-BUT LEARN!

Flouting safety in a high-powered vehicle is nothing to laugh at. Persevere as it seems, sometimes things we fear have a rib-ticking effect. Auto accidents happening and about to happen were the target for artist Irvin Caplan's pen in illustrating "Cowboys and Engines," the Travelers Insurance 1962 book of street and highway accident data. His penetrating wit, above, can teach some valuable safety lessons.

TEEN-AGE MOTHERHOOD
Babies Born to Teen-age Mothers, 1959
The old saw about mother looking young enough to be her daughter's sister is becoming increasingly appropriate, with the increase of births to teen-age mothers, a trend which bids to continue with today's earlier marriages. Chart shows percentages of babies born to teen-age mothers in 1959 by states. While only 3 per cent of the babies born in 1959 had teen-age fathers, 14 per cent were born to teen-age mothers. More than 4 per cent—185,000 babies—were born to mothers under 18 years of age. Data for Newschart as compiled by the Population Reference Bureau.

More Troops March Into Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—First elements of a fresh U.S. Army battle group rolled into West Berlin today after a 140-mile motor march across Communist East Germany.

Watching the arrival was Gen. Paul L. Freeman, commander in chief of the U.S. Army in Europe, who is visiting Berlin.

He was at Checkpoint Bravo where the autobahn enters the city. Col. Vincent C. Guerin of Waukegan, Ill., commander of the 1st Battle Group, 8th Infantry, went up to Freeman, saluted, and reported the arrival of the first troops.

His group, is relieving the 2nd Battle Group, 47th Infantry, which moved to Berlin last March. Movement of the two units involves some 3,000 troops.

Col. Guerin told newsmen that when the convoy halted at Babelsberg for the Russians to check it out of East Germany, Communist authorities turned on loudspeakers which poured out propaganda demands that West Berlin be transformed into a demilitarized free city.

Col. Guerin said he protested to the Soviet officer in charge who not been determined, Henson added. Henson said all of the buildings were of frame construction and in an older section of the town.

Storms Taper After Hitting Wide Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Storms diminished and rains tapered off today after Sunday's a violent weather in areas from the central Rockies to the Atlantic Coast.

Severe thunderstorms, with heavy rain and hail, and strong winds, hit many sections along the Atlantic Coast.

A storm which struck the New York metropolitan area flooded thousands of homes, toppled power lines and caused widespread traffic jams. At least two persons were killed in the storm, which caused the heaviest damage in Brooklyn.

Philadelphia was drenched with nearly three inches of rain in a period of 97 minutes, the heaviest downpour for the period in 64 years in Camden, N.J., the heavy rains flooded the city's post office basement, soaking 200 bags of parcel post mail. Washouts delayed several trains in southern New Jersey.

Nearly two inches of rain drenched areas in Rhode Island, most of it within a two-hour period. Some minor flooding was reported throughout the state.

In the Midwest, a severe thunderstorm rumbled across the St. Louis area, causing some flash floods. Wind gusts up to 45 m.p.h. swept the Ponca City, Okla., area as the stormy weather spread across sections of Oklahoma, Missouri and Arkansas.

Hail pelted the Memphis, Tenn., area. Nearly three inches of rain fell in Muscle Shoals, Ala.

In the West, hail also fell in Casper, Wyo., with a line of thunderstorms from areas in the central Rockies southeastward to the lower Mississippi Valley and eastward into the central Plains.

The mercury soared to 115 Sunday in Imperial, Calif., and Yuma, Ariz. It was 98 in Boise, Idaho, 97 in Walla Walla, Wash., and 96 in Pendleton, Ore., and Salt Lake City.

California reported the highest and lowest temperatures at mid-night. It was 99 in Blythe, in the southern section, and 49 in Arcata, in the northwest.

Man Admits Bludgeoning Two Girls

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP)—James H. Vance Jr. has admitted bludgeoning two teen-age girls to death with a tire wrench.

An authority quoted Vance as saying he "blew his top" the night of the crime.

Vance, 18, a schoolmate of the two victims, called a detective to his cell Sunday morning and admitted the double slaying, according to Morris County Prosecutor Frank Scerbo.

"He just wanted to get it off his chest," Scerbo said.

After admitting the crime, the youth was taken by police to his home about a mile from where the girls were murdered.

He led two detectives to the attic of the frame house and, shoving aside loose floorboards, uncovered a blood-stained jacket he said he had been wearing the night of the slayings.

At his home, Scerbo said, Vance admitted the murders to his father.

The battered bodies of the victims—Margaret Ann Kennedy, 16, and Noreen Buckley, 17, both of Morris Plains, were found off a lonely road in a wooded area in adjoining Morris Township.

A bloody tire wrench found near the bodies was the murder weapon, Scerbo said. Vance admitted earlier that the wrench resembled one missing from his car. He said he used it to change a tire most of the people in Hot Springs feel the casinos are necessary.

Police Chief Milford Sanders and Chamber of Commerce manager Mort Cox spoke in favor of gambling for the spa.

Sanders commented in the interview that controlled gambling is preferable to uncontrolled, underground operations. Cox said gambling was vital to the resort community's economy.

The mayor said the casinos were wholly owned and operated by Arkansians, not syndicates, and had paid nearly $300,000 in a voluntary tax. He said the money was used to finance a city auditorium and other projects.

Dr. Fred Harrison, a Hot Springs minister, told Moore the Hot Springs Ministerial Alliance had attempted to get a "search and burn warrant" from the prosecuting attorney. He said the prosecutor declined.

Harrison said the alliance also approached the grand jury, but was told it had been adjourned. He said no new grand jury has been sworn in since then.

Amusements became the 18th largest industry in the United States in 1961, according to the 1962 Britannica Book of the Year.

Wednesday night—the night the girls were last seen.

Their fully clothed bodies were found Thursday afternoon. Police said they had not been sexually molested.

Authorities said Vance gave this account:

He met the girls in front of a luncheonette and they asked him for a ride home. When they realized he was using his father's automobile, they asked him where his car was. He told them he had wrecked it while racing on a dirt lane on an old estate.

Vance said the girls did not believe him and he agreed to take them to the area to show them the car. He said he left the car there—with the Buckley girl in it—while he and the Kennedy girl walked into the woods in search of his own wrecked auto.

Police had towed the wreck from the area but Vance and the girl found the place where the car had been.

He left the Kennedy girl and returned to his father's car for the Buckley girl. Authorities said he and the Buckley girl argued and he killed her. Officials declined to say what the argument was about.

He then went into the woods and killed the other girl, authorities said.

Vance was charged with murder Saturday and was confined to the Morris County jail without bail.

Historians to Build Museum

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—The Faulkner County Historical Society can proceed now with plans to build a log house museum on the court house lawn.

The project was tied up for lack of suitable materials, but that problem was solved by A. L. Bryant, an merchant of the Hamlet Conway.

Bryant gave the society a pre-Civil War log cabin located at the junction of Highways 64 and 36. The building, which once was used as a stagecoach stop on the Conway - Clinton road, was built about 1820.

Joe C. Shaw, society president, said the group would meet tonight to make definite plans for moving the building.

Golden Age Club

The Golden Age Club had a regular meeting at the Youth Center on Thursday afternoon, June 21 with 10 members and one guest, Mrs. V. E. Guggenheim of Dallas, Tex.

Games were played with prizes going to the winners. The guest was presented a bouquet of flowers by Mrs. Georgie Cleary. It was decided to have only one meeting a month during July and August. The next meeting will be on July 19.

To coincide with the June meeting, cake and cold drinks were served.

Mrs. J. W. Ray Honored On 75th Birthday

The following children of Mrs. J. W. Ray honored her Tuesday, June 19 at 7:30 p. m. in the Woodman Hall to celebrate her 75th birthday:

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Huggins, Linda and Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dodge of Lincoln Park, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haggard of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ray, Jr., Dennis and Bruce of Albuquerque, N. M.; Rev. and Mrs. Earl Allen of Sulphur Springs, Tex.; and Mrs. Joe Hamilton of Emmet, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Hartfield, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Purtle, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thornton and Dean, all of Hope.

Grandchildren attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Ned Ray Purtle, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Goodner, all of Hope; Jack Ray of Dallas, Tex.; Steve Ray of Lake Charles, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Williamson, Randy and Greg of Ft. Worth, Tex. Her sister, Mrs. W. R. Huddleston, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Osborn, also were present for the celebration.

A delicious baked ham with all the trimmings were served buffet style after dinner pictures were taken. Then, the beautiful cake aglow with 75 glowing candles was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Herald Porterfield were after dinner guests. Mrs. Ray received many lovely gifts, messages, and flowers. Her grandson, Dr. Jimmy Ray Allen, director of the Christian Life Commission, and sons, Skipper and Scotty, of Dallas, Tex., were Tuesday guests but could not stay for the dinner.

Ray Family Hold A Fish Fry

Members of the J. W. Ray family had a fish fry at Fair Park on Thursday, June 21. About 35 gathered for the family cook-out where an abundance of fish and home-made ice cream were served. Those attending from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dodge, Lincoln Park, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haggard, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Huggins, Linda and Beth, all of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ray, Jr., Dennis and Bruce of Albuquerque, N. M.

Miscellaneous Showers For Mrs. Raymond Aaron

Mrs. Raymond Aaron, a recent bride, was surprised with a miscellaneous wedding shower at Fair Park by Mrs. David Oller and Mrs. Valgene Hair Thursday night, June 21. The guest of honor, wearing a white dress with green floral print, was presented a clever kitchen corsage.

When the group played traveling game, the honoree was the ultimate winner. Mrs. Martha White won a game played with clothes pins, and all wrote helpful advice to be used in the kitchen by the new bride.

Many lovely and useful gifts were presented to Mrs. Aaron. Her sister, Mrs. Wendall Nivens of Bossier City, La., was the only out-of-town guest. The hostesses served wedding cake and cold drinks to 22.

Centerville H. D. Club Meets

The Centerville Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Johnnie McKroy. The meeting was opened with singing "My Wild Irish Rose." The cypher was given by Mrs. Mamie Sanders. The devotion was given by Mrs. Johnnie McKroy, "The purpose of Life." The demonstration given by Mrs. M. C. Beck was on "Food Facts and Fallacies."

Roll call was answered with "My Wedding dress" by 14 members and 1 new member, Mrs. J. B. Davis, and three visitors, Misses Sherie Bright, Cecelia and Denise Faught.

During the social hour cookies and cold drinks were served.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Williamson, Randy and Greg have returned to their home in Ft. Worth, Tex., after having visited Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hartfield and Edward Cobb.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Guggenheim and son of Dallas, Tex., visited last week with Mrs. Paul Cobb.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Barnes have returned from a week's vacation with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Revels, Mark and Debbie in Houston and Galveston, Tex. A ride in a helicopter over the Gulf of Mexico was a thrilling highlight of their trip.

Miss Personality Is Selected

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Celeste Crom, 18, of Dardanelle, was chosen Miss Personality Saturday in the climax of the third annual Petit Jean National Arts and Crafts Fair.

Church May Move Its Seminary

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 232nd General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church was to have before it today a recommendation to move the church's seminary at McKenzie, Tenn. to Memphis.

The assembly enters its final business session today to hear reports from various committees. Also on the schedule is consideration of a reply to an apology received from the 174th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church over a rift that split the two groups over 50 years ago.

Relocation of the seminary in an urban area has been considered by the assembly since 1955, officials said Sunday. The seminary, which has been at McKenzie since 1908, has about 50 ministerial and missionary students working under seven faculty members.

The Board of Trustees announced Sunday it would ask the assembly today to start a church-wide campaign to raise $300,000 to finance the move.

Sunday, ministers and elders of the assembly filled pulpits in 16 Little Rock Churches.

Activities were scheduled to resume today with an address by Dr. John E. Gardner, professor of homiletics at the McKenzie seminary.

Saturday, the assembly named two Tennesseans and one Kentuckian to the Board of Foreign Missions.

They were Mrs. Argyle Faith Sr., Delaware, Ky.; and the Rev. Vernon Burrow, Cleveland, Tenn. and the Rev. O. T. Arnett, Jackson, Tenn.

Selection of annual meeting sites three years in advance, rather than one was approved by the assembly.

About 600 delegates are attending the assembly.

Hanshaw to Open His Campaign

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Paul Hanshaw of Jonesboro, a candidate for state land commissioner, was scheduled to open his campaign this morning at a breakfast meeting in Jonesboro. He said he would spend the week campaigning in south Arkansas. Hanshaw, a former Craighead County Judge, is opposing Land Commissioner Sam Jones, who defeated him in 1960. Jones is seeking a fourth term.

her brother, Arthur M. Wimmell and Mrs. Wimmell at McCaskill

Five DAR members from the John Cain chapter attended the annual Flag Day district meeting in Malvern. A morning session was held in the Bank of Malvern followed by a luncheon in the Methodist Church. Those who attended from here were Mrs. J. J. Batfield, Mrs. Otis Blackwood, Mrs. Arthur Wimmell, Mrs. Paul Klipsch, and Mrs. Roy Stephenson.

Despite a full schedule, a career girl can look trim and lovely every day if she organizes her grooming time. Using bedtime as bath time simplifies her morning schedule. Upon arising, she sets and sprays her hair to perk up loose ends. By the time she's brushed her teeth (left), made up her face and dressed, her hair will be set. In her once-a-week schedule, she combines two tasks (center). Warm soapsuds soften toenail cuticles while she does her manicure. Each morning she's faultlessly groomed in just a few minutes (right) because she's made beauty a habit.

A NOD FROM DISNEY—The new film, "40 Pounds of Trouble," will have Disneyland as the locale for one of its scenes, the first time Walt Disney has opened his park to moviemakers. The tale costars Tony Curtis and Suzanne Pleshette. It's also the film debut of a newcomer, Claire Wilcox, a 6-year-old, around whom the plot revolves.

DOROTHY DIX

Is Her Marriage Too Good To Be True?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Will I, like Job, bring that which I fear upon me? This nagging question is ever present in the dark recesses of my mind. My husband of a year and a half takes our marriage as seriously as I do. But, being a man, he thinks it enough that we love each other now. With all the temptations, cheating and divorce in this world, will we always? How can we, two very small people in the vast scheme of life, hope to live happily ever after?

When I raise these questions my husband comes angry and hurt, claiming our marriage is a lost cause if once I cease to believe in him. That alone could lead to what I fear the most: losing this wonderful guy. Knowing how stupid it is to worry about that which has not yet happened, I still do.

As I sit here, writing you in our gay living room, with its bright chintz curtains and modern furniture, my fears seem like a bad dream; perhaps apprehension would be a better word. Yet they recur often enough to cause us both worry. My husband says we should let tomorrow take care of itself. That's easier said than done for—I am a worrier. How can I change?—Doubtful

Dear Doubtful: Will yourself to overcome this obsession, else that which you fear is inevitable. The moment you feel such a mood approaching, busy yourself with work or an interesting hobby. Anything to divert your thoughts. Ask your husband's help. Two can break a bad habit easier than one. Reverse your thinking. It's no sin to be happy.

Have fun, relax. Enjoy life. But don't expect it to remain static. True happiness lies in growth, development and advancement. Prepare yourself for motherhood as well as wifehood by taking courses in child care and home economics. Check with the local Board of Education. Activity is the sunshine which dispels the clouds of worry.

Dear Helen: My daughter and son-in-law expect me to assign barbecue on July 4, 1962, near them all the insurance collected upon the accidental death of her father—my former husband. True, we had been separated but, since I was still his legal wife and he had the insurance made out in my name, I feel it is mine.

Far be it for me to criticize the dead but my ex-husband had no more responsibility than a robin where wife and child were concerned. That was why we parted—I taking our five-year-old daughter, he blithely going his own sweet way.

Now our daughter is grown and married and he dead and gone. She claims I had other affairs of the heart. So what? I saw to it that she was well cared for, clothed and educated. This came out of my pocket. Am I not entitled to the insurance?—Lonesome Mother.

Dear Lonesome: You have the legal as well as moral right to the insurance money. Your husband intended it for you and that's that. Don't be intimidated! Should your son-in-law and daughter continue the heckling, refer them to the insurance company.

Dear Helen: Every now and then you state that no well brought-up girl wears lipstick. It's not the lipstick or lack of it that makes a girl behave. I am 33, well-behaved and wear lipstick. —H.

Dear N.: There is nothing wrong about a little girl wearing lipstick, except lack of decorum or a sense of the fitness of things. She's pushing the clock and, in so doing, makes herself incongruous—like a baby teetering on high heels.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Our Fine Teen-agers."

Threatened, Witness Takes Pills

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police hope to question today a night club singer and dancer who they said took an overdose of sleeping pills allegedly as the result of threats received after she testified before the Senate Investigations subcommittee about B-girls.

Detective Walter Ryan reported today that the singer, Pat Kobalski, 34, known professionally as Pat Lynne, was unconscious and in critical condition at Graduate Hospital. An operation was performed Sunday night to open her throat so she could breathe easier.

Ryan said Miss Lynne was rushed to the hospital about 7 a. m. Sunday from the residence of a friend, Paul W. Hackett, 33. When Miss Lynne testified before the subcommittee on June 12 her name was listed as Mrs. Pat Lynne Hackett.

Detective Stanley Greenfield quoted Hackett as saying that Miss Lynne told him that last Saturday two strange men approached her car in a downtown parking lot and ordered her out of the car. She locked the doors and drove off.

Later in the day according to Hackett, Miss Lynne asked him to check her car because there was a tape recorder in it and the doors had been left unlocked. Hackett said it was reported to police that the tape recorder and a quantity of clothing were stolen from the car.

Greenfield quoted Hackett as saying that around 4 a. m. Sunday he and Miss Lynne began drinking a few beers and when she appeared drowsy she told him she had taken the sleeping pills.

Greenfield also quoted Hackett as saying that Miss Lynne told him that she received two threatening phone calls from strange men several days ago while she was in Metropolitan Hospital being treated for an infection stemming from amputation of her right leg as the result of an auto accident three years ago.

The strangers told her: not to say anything more about what she had testified before the subcommittee, Hackett said.

Miss Lynne had told the subcommittee that while working for a now defunct Philadelphia supper club she was required to mix with customers and solicit drinks at the bar.

Crossett Co. Gets Offer for Sale

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — Georgia Pacific Paper Corp. offered Crossett Co. stockholders $55 a share Sunday in an effort to gain control of the firm.

And spokesmen for the three families holding majority shares indicated their recommendation would be to sell.

Peter F. Watzek, president of the firm, said in letters to stockholders today his family would sell its shares. The Crossett and Gates families said through a representative Sunday they had decided to recommend sale of the stock.

The three families hold about 80 per cent of the stock of the $50 million a year company. The Gates hold about 600,000 shares, the Watzeks about 630,000 and the Crossetts, about 300,000.

Members of the Watzek family had previously voiced opposition to the sale and Peter Watzek had termed the $216 million offer too low.

Watzek said his own stock was being transferred to escrow this week. The Crossett family announced a few months ago they had placed their 26 per cent holdings in escrow.

Georgia Pacific's offer to the stockholders expires at the close of July 2.

Its letters to stockholders Sunday said the $55 offer was valid only if 5 per cent of the stockholders had accepted the offer before the deadline. If 50 per cent have not accepted by then, the offer will drop to $47.50.

The firm said a second offer is then to be made to all other stockholders who have deposited shares in escrow for purchase at $47.50.

The Crossett Co., manufactures kraft pulp, paper, paperboard, lumber, bags, charcoal and wood-based chemicals. It has plants at Crossett and Covington, Ky., and holds 564,000 acres of timberland in southeast Arkansas and northeast Louisiana.

Sale of the firm to Georgia Pacific has been rumored for several weeks, but doubt was cast by the recent stock market fluctuations and by a report that Arthur Temple Jr., a Texas lumberman, would oppose the bid of the west coast firm.

Temple, president of the Southern Pine Lumber Co. of Diboll, Tex., is also president of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

Crossett sources said Sunday they had received no word from Temple.

Driver of Truck Dies in Accident

DEQUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Robert Bray, 65, of Lamar, near Clarksville, was killed early Sunday when his truck-trailer rig, jackknifed near DeQueen, throwing him from the cab and crushing him beneath the wheels.

State Trooper Louie Helton said the accident occurred on a curve at the foot of a hill on U.S. Highway 71 south of Locksburg. Helton said Bray apparently went to sleep at the wheel.

treated for an infection stemming from amputation of her right leg as the result of an auto accident three years ago.

The strangers told her: not to say anything more about what she had testified before the subcommittee, Hackett said.

Miss Lynne had told the subcommittee that while working for a now defunct Philadelphia supper club she was required to mix with customers and solicit drinks at the bar.

Railroads Break off Negotiations

CHICAGO (AP) - The nation's railroads broke off negotiations with five operating unions today - for the second time - on moves to eliminate what the railroads contend is featherbedding. J. E. Wolfe, chief spokesman for the rail lines, said, "It is obvious that no progress can be made by prolonging the present endeavors."

Wolfe, speaking for all the railroads, announced the breakdown in a statement handed to Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Mediation Board, and representatives of the five unions involved at a brief meeting. The unions represent engineers, firemen, trainmen, conductors and switchmen and total 200,000.

Children under the age of 18 constitute 36.5 per cent of the U.S. population.

Deer Multiply Rapidly Under Fair Conditions

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of information articles pertaining to current deer management problems in Arkansas.)

By Gus Albright
News Editor
Arkansas Game And Fish Commission

The first positive steps to restore the deer in Arkansas came with the establishment of refuges in 1926. Since that date an enlarged system of refuges, better law enforcement, trapping from concentration areas, tracking depleted range and public conservation measures have contributed greatly to an increase in numbers.

Also, as the big timber was cut, a hundred green sprouts grew where each forest giant had stood. To this immense increase in the food supply and to management measures the deer responded. A population of 30,000 was estimated in 1946. Today the number far exceeds this.

The state refuge system now includes 16 areas comprising 250,000 acres. Most of them now have well established herds. In fact, in some refuges today there are more deer than there is range to sustain them.

Deer gradually spread from refuges to populate adjacent range, but normally there is no mass movement into new territory. Because of this characteristic in a few years they overpopulate closed areas.

In 1942 the Game and Fish Commission began trapping native deer from areas with high populations and transferring them to areas where their numbers were scarce. At the end of 10 years a total of 2,293 were moved. An additional 301 were purchased from a game farm in Wisconsin, these in 1942-43-44.

The trapping program was continued full scale until 1952. Since then a limited amount has been carried on; but for all practical purposes, as a restoration tool, it has been stopped. The program served its purpose well; but now, except perhaps in isolated cases, trapping and trans-planting is no longer a needed deer management tool in Arkansas.

As stated, white-tailed deer rarely migrate but stay close to their home range. Of 689 tagged and released in Michigan, for instance, the majority were killed within miles of the release point. One doe was recaptured where she had been trapped and tagged 13 years before.

Most people do not realize how fast deer multiply, even under less than ideal conditions. In another Michigan experiment four does and two bucks were fenced into a 1,200 acre area. After six springs there were 160 deer in the enclosure.

One New York doe dropped 33 fawns in 15 years, and at the age of 17 she had twins. In only five years one Missouri doe had 25 direct descendants.

Similar examples of this rabbit-like multiplication come from Illinois, Pennsylvania and Texas, to mention just a few places. With deer the interest rate is high, the authorities say at least 30 percent per year. In some cases up to 60 percent.

It is basic in animal biology that more young are produced than are necessary to carry on the species. This is true of ants, elephants, people and deer.

Don't Get Rattled Is Good Advice

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Bob Goalby had something else to remember today from his close traveling golf companion, Doug Ford: Don't get rattled when the heat's on.

Goalby had a first-hand exhibition of Ford's dogged temperament gained in 13 active years on the money circuit.

"They played together in the last trip of the Eastern Open golf tournament Sunday.

Ford, who had enjoyed a six-stroke lead at the end of 36 holes, saw it melt away during the fourth round. The last man with a chance at him was Goalby.

With three holes to play, Ford was ahead by one stroke. At the 16th, Goalby sank a six-foot putt for a birdie. Ford matched it with a four-footer.

At the next-to-last hole—which Ford had tabbed early in the tournament as key spot on the Mount Pleasant course — Goalby drove the 201-yard green and Ford missed it. But Doug calmly chipped to four feet of the cup and sank his par.

On the last hole, Goalby's second shot was 15 feet past the cup and Ford was a dozen feet to the side. Goalby, twice nervously waving gnats away from the ball, putted boldly but the ball fell off sharply to the left at the last second and missed.

Ford putted out safely in two, for a tense one-stroke victory. He had matched par 72 on the last round and gone over by one in the third round.

In the first 36 holes he had been 10 under par. His total 279 was nine under par, second highest score to win the Eastern.

It was the second victory of the year for the 39-year-old Ford and the first prize of $5,300 boosted his take to $21,341.

Yogi Wasn't Tired After Long Game

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Aging Yogi Berra, a catcher again at 37, bounced around like a kid of 16.

Whitey Ford, one of seven players who sat out the entire afternoon and early evening, had writer's cramp.

Jack Reed and Jim Bouton, two of the most obscure players among the star-laden New York Yankees, were heroes for the first time.

"This was the clubhouse scene after what had begun as a pleasant Sunday afternoon had ended exactly 7 hours and 22 innings later Sunday. The 7-hour game was the longest in major league history. It came to a dramatic conclusion with the Yankees outlasting the Detroit Tigers 9-7.

Reed, generally employed as a late-inning defensive specialist or pinch runner, won it with his first major league homer with Roger Maris on base in the top of the 22nd after the Yankees had been scoreless for 19 innings. Bouton was the winning pitcher with seven innings of three-hit relief pitching.

Track, Field Records Are Broken

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—Track and field record books were in for a rewrite job today as a 40-man team headed for Chicago to prepare for upcoming meets with Poland and the Soviet Union and the 74th national AAU championships passed into history.

Missing from the American team which will face Poland in Chicago this weekend and the Soviet Union at Palo Alto, Calif., July 21-22 will be one of the nation's top sprinters and two of its 10-foot pole vaulters.

Villanova's Frank Budd is out with a bad leg injury, and the pole vaulting stars, Lt. Dave York and John Uelses, failed to qualify in the nationals.

Veteran Ron Morris of the Southern California Striders, vaulting 16 feet 1/4 inch, and the University of Washington's John Cramer, at 15-8 1/2, both made the U.S. team.

One world mark was tied and three American records were broken as the AAU carnival wound up Saturday night.

For the first time in American track annals, four men hit the tape in the mile under four minutes.

Paul Drayton, second best to Budd on the Villanova team, ran the 220-yard dash in 20.5, equaling the world standard around one turn set by Peter Radford of Great Britain in 1960.

Drayton also bettered the American mark of 20.6 established by Andy Stanfield in 1951.

Al Oerter broke his own pending national mark of 200 feet 5 1/2 inches with a discus throw of 202-2. Just one-half inch shy of a world record pending for the Soviet Union's Vladimir Trusnevoy.

Canada's remarkable Bruce Kidd fractured the 6-mile record with 28:23.2 Friday night. The old one was 28:35.8 by Al Lawrence in 1960.

The dramatic mile was the climax of the final program as little Jim Beatty, Jim Grelle, Cary Weisiger and unheralded Bill Dotson battled to the tape.

Beatty's time was 3:57.9, equaling the meet record set by Herb Elliott; Grelle and Weisiger both had 3:58.1 and Dotson, from Lawrence, Kan., had 3:59.0.

The publicized 3-mile run was won handily by Murray Halberg of New Zealand, whose time of 13:30.6 was considerably under his world record of 13:10 flat.

Ford, scheduled to pitch today, set in a corner of the dugout and kept a chart on all the pitches thrown by the seven Yankee pitchers.

"Let's see," Ford, running down the chart, "There were 316 of them. Bouton threw 93. And Marlar shall Bridges, who he got away on only three pitches."

Bouton won for only the second time as a major leaguer. He entered the game in the 16th.

"When it was over, I didn't even know how many innings I'd pitched," said Bouton. "I felt like I could have gone an inning or two longer. After all, I'd only pitched three innings Saturday night."

Reed, who entered the game in the 13th as the second right field replacement for Mickey Mantle, fouled off a bunt attempt before belting his homer off Phil Regan.

"He gave me a good fast ball, right down the middle," said Reed. "Maybe they were thinking I was going to bunt again."

Reds Hanging on, Take One From Dodgers

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson, the National League's most valuable player of 1961, is in the midst of a hot streak that may not only carry him to his second straight MVP award but also bring the second straight pennant to the Cincinnati Reds.

The Reds, after a wretched start, were hanging doggedly in the race today, seven games behind league-leading Los Angeles after taking a 12-10 slugfest Sunday. Four homers, two of them by Robinson, carried the Reds to victory. Robinson's homers, his 10th and 11th of the season, drove in four runs and gave the Reds fresh momentum after they had squandered an early 5-0 lead.

San Francisco's Giants defeated Warren Spahn and the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 to climb to within 1 1/2 games of the Dodgers. Pittsburgh dropped a doubleheader to the Chicago Cubs, 4-3 and 8-4, to fall 6 1/2 games off the pace, and only a half game in front of the fourth-place Reds. St. Louis split with Philadelphia, winning the second game, 5-1, after the Phils had won the opener, 3-1. Rain came pouring down during the third inning of the first game in New York and washed out a scheduled doubleheader between Houston and the Mets.

New York and Detroit played the third longest game in American League history—22 innings—the Yankees winning 9-7 on Jack Reed's home run following a walk to Roger Maris. It was the reserve outfielder's first major league homer.

Cleveland was held to a split by Washington but the Indians increased their American League lead to 1 1/2 games over the Minnesota Twins who were beaten twice by Los Angeles, 3-2 and 7-6. The Indians won the second game, 4-2 after Washington took the opener 3-1.

Boston beat Baltimore twice 3-2 and 8-5, Kansas City downed Chicago 5-2 after the White Sox had won their fifth in a row, taking the opener 6-1.

Robinson's first homer enabled the Reds to regain the lead, 6-5, after the Dodgers had scored five runs in the second to match Cincinnati's five in the first. The slugger's homer came on a hit from Dan Hatfield. Gus Robey and Key added the next two by coming in on errors. The 5th brought three more when Earl Ray Murphy singled and came home by a triple from Ronnie Barksdale who was sent in by Hatfield's second single. Then Hatfield made it 6-1, when batted in by Carl McMurtry's triple. In the 6th Jabo Hanks, who doubled, came in from a double by Jerry Burnett, and Burnett came from third after a sacrifice fly.

The winner's nine hits came from Hatfield with 2 singles, Barksdale and McMurtry triples, Burnett and Horton each a double, and three more singles from Murphy, Robey, and Mac Campbell.

The winning pitcher was Carl McMurtry, who struck out twelve while yielding only 3 hits and walking six.

Gordon's single run came from Stricklin in the 5th. The losing pitcher was Steve Rogers, who struck out nine, gave up nine hits, and walked four.

Batting—Jack Reed, Yankees. Reed's home run in the 22nd inning, his first in the major leagues, with a runner on base, gave the New York Yankees a 9-7 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in the third longest game in American League history.

Pitching—Juan Marichal, Giants. Marichal pitched a four-hitter for his 11th triumph as the Giants defeated Warren Spahn and the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 on Willie Mays' two-run double in the fifth inning.

Reed, Bouton Heroes of 22 Inning Game

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

When it comes to staging a history-making baseball production, two unlikely candidates for starring roles would be a third string outfielder named Jack Reed and a second-line relief pitcher named Jim Bouton.

But Reed and Bouton shared the spotlight Sunday as the New York Yankees overcame the Detroit Tigers, 9-7, in a 22-inning American League drama that lasted exactly seven hours. Reed provided the decisive punch, his first big league homer with a man on in the 22nd, and Bouton supplied the key pitching, seven innings of three-hit relief.

In time, the game at Tiger Stadium was the longest ever played in the majors. In innings only four other big league marathons have gone further. It started off as a Yankee runaway as they bombed Frank Lary for six runs in the first and another run in the second. While the Tigers were catching up and holding on, a succession of five Detroit pitchers shut out the Yankees for 12 innings before Reed blasted Phil Regan.

Long before the Yankee-Tiger duel was settled, other AL action was in the books. First-place Cleveland beat Washington 4-2 after losing the opener of the doubleheader to the Senators 3-1; Los Angeles trimmed Minnesota twice, 3-
